Can Xi understand Trump's mysterious chess game?

By the way, more than a decade ago, the description of a game of mysterious chess was circulated in Jianzhong and social media. Now Xi's big chessboard has been overturned, and it turned out to be a stinky chessboard and a dead chessboard. Not to mention the "Chinese dream" of the "great revival" or the "rise of a great country", it also let the "overseas hostile forces" join hands to besiege and put the name of "evil axis country". All kinds of crimes: cheating, releasing viruses, supporting terror, inciting aggression... are all disgusting tricks to undermine the existing international order. A big game of chess in China has made the economic reversal and people's livelihood wither, but abroad, many patriotic Chinese people are gray-headed and want to cry without tears. Many people spread the nameless fire to the "overseas hostile forces".

With the rise of Xi's big chess game on the stage, the grand strategy of the "Belt and Road" and the "Community of Human Destiny" began to scatter coins, and another figure on the other side of the Pacific Ocean began to take the stage. In the words of Ma Houbao, Xi did not expect the inevitability of changes in American politics at all on a mysterious game of chess. They believed that "east-rise and west-to-defall" was a foregone. Roll up your sleeves and rush up. During Trump's first election, the party and the country were full of hope. At that time, the common saying on WeChat was that businessmen were too easy to deal with, and the blue, gold and yellow strategy was not worried about not hooking. After Trump was elected, he immediately called Xiaoying, but Xi held back and invited him to visit China. I vowed to let the hegemony of the heavenly dynasty deter the newly elected President of the United States.

We didn't know this classic story until later. At that time, Xi was already in high spirits, thinking that the Americans were just like that, or Hu Angang and other masters had vision. China had already surpassed the United States in various fields for several years. No wonder Obama got off the plane without a red carpet to welcome him, and he did not dare to say anything more. The former Jiang Hu and others are really useless wastes who have read books for so many years in vain. All the world should come to the Forbidden City to kneel down. Xi believes that it is easy to use the means of over-limit combat, and Trump must have been defeated!

The Communist Party of China thinks that the United States is stupid. For more than 20 years, the country's defense target is only terrorist organizations. Therefore, it secretly funded all the dozens of international terrorist organizations that could be famous. Help them train human resources, establish secret organizations, provide military technology, and of course financial support, etc. Hezbollah, Hamas and Iran, which have emerged in recent years, are all the hard-earned money of the Chinese people. Of course, there are also massive monetary surpluses accumulated by unequal trade with the United States, which in turn finance anti-American and anti-Western activities. The Communist Party of China fantasizes that Americans will always be "stupid" to the end, so there is no retreat or response measures, nor does it want to maintain the existing normal international order.

One trap is not enough, and the virus war is added. It seems that the United States has not finished it in three days in 2021. With the guarantee of the Communist Party of China patting Putin in the chest, Russia launched the Russia-Ukraine war again in February 2022, and must drag the United States in the Middle East or Europe, without having time to care about East Asia and the Pacific. Xi's mysterious chess game can be understood by my layman (for details, see <Decryption: The collapse of the Millennium Plan "A Big Chess Game">), and naturally it can't be hidden from American politicians and people with strategic vision. Americans are not as stupid as they think, and not everyone can be corrupted by the blue, gold and yellow strategy. The U.S.-China trade war started shortly after Trump first took power, which caught the Communist Party of China off guard and panicked.

After Israel basically solved or greatly suppressed terrorist organizations in the Middle East, the Trump administration focused on the hope that the United States would be freed from the Russia-Ukraine war or the conflict in Europe in order to focus on East Asia and the Pacific. Many people still hold the Cold War mentality that the United States cannot let Europe away. In fact, NATO is no longer important now. The European Union can completely replace the role of the United States. The problem is that some people are lazy and refuse to contribute money, so Russia has the opportunity to take advantage of it. Their ancestor Lenin had already said that capitalism would hand over the gallows itself. Trump bluntly said that the establishment of the European Union is aimed at commercial competition with the United States. Doesn't the euro want to replace the US dollar? Well, can't the EU military replace the U.S. military? If it really doesn't work, come to the United States again!

As we all know, NATO was a military alliance established in response to the threat of the Soviet Communist Bloc after World War II. The Warsaw Treaty Group, which consists of the former Soviet Union and the Eastern European Group, was subsequently established in 1955, including many satellite powers such as Ukraine, Poland and East Germany, which now belong to the Western camp. With the disintegration of the Soviet Union and the defection and surrender of almost all former Eastern European groups to NATO. Now Russia's relative strength has shrunk by at least 2-3 times compared to 40 years ago, while its opponents have expanded several times. Russia has been decoupled from the communist ideology, but it has not moved towards full democracy. It is still a dictatorship of the Orthodox Church, so it has all the ambitions of the dictatorship. The original satellite countries have long hated Russia's control.

At present, the total population, economy and military strength of dozens of countries such as Germany, Britain, France, Italy, West and Bo are more than enough if they can coordinate and crush the currently exhausted Russia. Moreover, Britain and France also have nuclear weapons. It is not difficult for Germany, Ukraine and other countries to develop. The United States has always hoped that Europe should take responsibility and not always shout beautiful moral slogans for the sake of profit (such as always importing energy from Russia). In fact, except for Britain, Germany, France, Italy and other countries have been eating with two heads and three heads for many years, regardless of morality and the feelings of the American people. The infantile disease of the left in Europe has been rampant for more than decades. Without the intervention of more than two sacrifices of the United States in history, Europe has long lost its current appearance. It's time for them to wake up!

After Trump and Zelensky quarreled, the loser should not be the United States, Europe or even Ukraine in the end. The pace of EU unity and rapid integration will reshape the pattern of Europe. Their relationship with the United States will not be a complete division as imagined by the Communist Party of China, but rather rational coordination and echo to establish a stronger and more equal relationship. Look at Trump and their speeches before the leaders of England and France, they will know the weight of the United States in their hearts.

There are a few points to remind you:

1) The relationship between the United States and Europe is a historical, religious, cultural and realistic alliance. There is always a dispute, but outsiders can't leave.

2) No country can ignore or challenge the leadership of the United States in the short term.

3) The strategic consideration of the United States is first of all for the biggest threat. She must ask the allies to take sides and share the responsibility.

4) The struggle between the left and right of the United States, the struggle between morality and commercial interests, etc., have always been mutually constrained and balanced.

5) No matter how the administration intends to stop the war, the American people, Congress, etc. will not stop their solidarity with Ukraine.

6) The restoration of U.S.-Russia relations to normal state relations is the basic guarantee of world peace.

There are many anti-Xi supporters or vice versa, Heichuan or Tingchuan, and both at home and abroad. In the face of troubled times, many people with the same or similar background as Xi may not understand Trump's layout of the chessboard. Yes, 6-8 years have passed, and Trump's political philosophy has long been well known to the outside world. But there are different opinions on how to "mak America great again" in a mysterious game. All kinds of rumors and fake information flooded all kinds of media. In fact, both Xi and many people who support and oppose him are puzzled or angry about the big moves of the United States' "Brexit" or "Brexit".

If you look at the modern history of the United States, it is not difficult to find that the fraterne and adjustment of the United States are almost "homely". The Republic of China in Taiwan is just one example, as well as Vietnam, Afghanistan, etc. The United States gives the highest priority to national interests, with both short-term and long-term considerations. At the most critical moment of the two world wars, the United States was forced to go to sea. Where did the "credibility or morality" of those Chinese people come from? Many outsiders disdainful of the United States' behavior of "credibility or morality" and think that they should do this or that. The reason is very simple, because you speak from the standpoint of your interests, thinking that Americans have the obligation to provide you with education, technology, assistance, protection, war... and so on. It's better to be scolded by you at any time for free and accept your lighthouse guidance. But if you can be the boss, you won't be too stupid. I believe that most Americans will continue to morally support Ukraine or all those who are coerced or enslaved, but most will not oppose the escape from Europe, nor will they be kidnapped by your passion. Americans are very practical, far beyond your imagination.

As a weak party, you must get hard by yourself first. Let Americans believe that the weak are also people who can help. Good brother, you should also settle the score clearly. During World War II, the United States cited the "Lending Act" to strongly support the British and Soviet Union. It was not until 2006 that the British Empire paid off the debts of its brother America in World War II. Although defeating German, Japanese and Italian fascists is a great cause, it is also conditional, which is the difference of American greatness. Imagine that if everything is done according to human morality and traditional morality, regardless of the consequences, and without considering the fundamental interests of the country and the people, the country will soon be played by the so-called "political correctness". Therefore, the United States generally does not say that friendship is not capped or must liberate anyone. Such nonsense slogans that go too far and fail to achieve the purpose do not belong to the great United States. As for what many people say, the credibility of the United States is completely ruined. Please rest assured that there will be many people who want to come to the United States, buy and steal American technology, and of course grab the US dollar... This is how the boss plays. It's not the boss, most of them can't understand.

When NATO is gradually equalizing with the European Union, in the Asia-Pacific region, the new Asian NATO of Japan, South Korea, the Philippines, Taiwan, Macao and other countries has actually taken shape, which is the result of the consensus and full promotion of the U.S. Congress, the two parties and the people. The Biden administration is not strong because of the two heavy dramas in Eurasia. Moreover, the major European countries always want others to contribute, and they are exposed to themselves, which is a lot of back legs. Many people will associate Ukraine with Taiwan and the South China Sea. Some people keep hyping that the United States will also give up Taiwan and the First Island chain, but it depends on the priority of the interests of the United States. There is no doubt that the United States will focus on the Asia-Pacific region in the foreseeable future, which is already a conspiracy. Who told you that Xi is always bragging?

Trump's big game is actually not mysterious, but Xi and the Communist Party of China may not fully understand it. If you really have a vision, you won't offend two friends, Israel and Ukraine. Recently, the White House's hospitality, frankness or domineeringness, has aroused people's disgust. Many people with Chinese cultural backgrounds, or citizens from other cultures, may be confused, uneasy or angry. However, the disclosure of the conflict between the United States and Ukraine is a good thing, which gives the American people the right to know, and also awakens the lazy Europe. Look at this news, it must be from Trump's latest exciting general method:

"European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen proposed a five-point plan on Tuesday (March 4) to raise 800 billion euros (about 840 billion US dollars) in order to "rearm Europe" and suspend military aid to Ukraine in the United States. Later, emergency military assistance was provided to Kiev. A new era has come to us," Von der Leyen said in a letter to the leaders of EU countries introducing the plan. The European Union convened the leaders of its member states to hold a summit in Brussels on Thursday to discuss how to continue to assist Ukraine and strengthen European defense.

The biggest strategic purpose has suddenly been achieved. Trump's big game of chess has just begun. How can Xi take over?
